Bicentennial Street Fair Activity Host Callout Sunday, April 29, 2018 on Kirkwood Avenue

The City of Bloomington continues its year-long Bicentennial celebration with a Bicentennial Street Fair on Kirkwood Avenue Sunday, April 29 from noon until 4 p.m.

This event is an opportunity for Bloomington to experience Kirkwood Avenue as a thoroughfare for cultural activity and celebration. Our hope is that the Bicentennial Street Fair will offer an opportunity to use Bloomington's city streets in new ways: To meet neighbors, find out more about local businesses and organizations, explore new things to do, and celebrate Bloomington's history as well as its future.

Community organizations, businesses, and individuals can be a part of the event by registering to be an activity host. Applications to host an activity area are due March 1. There is no fee to participate.

The number of activity spaces available is limited, so available spots will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Activity spaces are designated by parking spaces on Kirkwood Avenue, and each business or group may request up to three parking spaces. We hope you will join us for an afternoon of fun and community spirit!

All activities should be engaging, interactive, fun for all ages, and free! As an activity host, you are welcome to share information about your organization or business, but "tabling" cannot be the focus of your booth, and selling of goods is not permitted. There is no access to electricity, tables, chairs, or other booth-related items, but Master Rental (2002 W. Third St., 812.332.0600) has offered special event pricing for participating groups.

The Bicentennial Street Fair takes place rain or shine. If severe weather occurs, the event will be rescheduled for Sunday, May 20, 2018.

Please visit one of the online application sites below to reserve your activity or entertainment space for the Street Fair:

We hope you can join in this celebration of our wonderful Bloomington community.
